INVITING HONORABLE. J. E.
McDONALD TO ADDRESS
THE HOUSE

Mr. Fuchs offered the following resolution:

H. S. R. No. 18, Inviting Honorable J. E. McDonald to address the House.

Whereas, The action of Congress relative to benefit payments to farmers and production control involves questions of extreme interest not only to the farmers and cattle raisers of Texas but also to every citizen of Texas; and

Whereas, There is imperative necessity for constructive and practical National crop control legislation; and

Whereas, This legislation must be such that will place agriculture on a status of equality with labor and other industries; and

Whereas, It is proposed this can be done under the so-called domestic allotment plan; and

Whereas, Foreign cotton production for the year 1934 was over 13,300,000 bales and has increased from year to year and is estimated that the foreign production will be in excess of 19,500,000 bales for the year 1937; and

Whereas, The State of Texas produces one-eighth of the agricultural wealth of the United States, one-fourth of the cotton of the United States; and

Whereas, The State of Texas is vitally concerned with National Farm Legislation; and

Whereas, The other major crop organizations in the United States have been, as a result of the inactivity of the cotton growing states, dictating the National Crop Control legislation, consequently, receiving more equitable and satisfactory results from the operation of existing programs; and

Whereas, There is at present a responsibility and opportunity for Texas to take an active leadership in the kind of National legislation that will best fit Texas greatest crop, cotton; and

Whereas, The State Commissioner of Agriculture, J. E. McDonald, has discussed agricultural problems with many leading citizens of America and abroad; and

Whereas, He has been called in conference with many other Southern State Commissioners of Agriculture and National authorities in Washington, D. C., a number of times and discussed various kinds of farm legislature being proposed and urged upon Congress; and

Whereas, The Committee on Agriculture having heard Mr. McDonald discuss this proposed legislation; and

Whereas, The Committee on Agriculture, after hearing him, adopted a Committee Resolution recommending that the House of Representatives take advantage of Mr. McDonald's knowledge on the subject in question; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the State Commissioner, Honorable J. E. McDonald, be invited to address the House of Representatives on Monday, October 11, at 11 o'clock a. m., 1937, on the subject of Federal Legislation for the Protection and Advancement of the Agricultural Industry of this Nation.
